
Old Golf Course Bulldozed

Posted by Jerry - 2009/07/12 15:54

Written by D-Mack on Friday, 21 November 2008

Well there is much speculation as to what exactly is happening with the old golf course. Rumors abound including:

- * they are just cleaning it up due to excessive complaints
- * the flattened areas will be turned into a 'parking lot'
- * they are putting in a road
- * they are preparing the land for a development

If the first rumor is true, I for one am quite disgusted with how 'clean' it has turned out. What a mess!! I don't know who has been complaining about the space, but I thought it was a nice area to walk through (broken trees, long grass et al).

Hopefully the grass will regrow and replace the giant mud pit that it is now!!

D-Mack

I heard the strata company that owns it (not greenside) was being threatened by the city to mow it so often or they would be fined so that strata company decided it was just less expensive to bulldoze the whole thing so nothing grows.

=====

Re:Old Golf Course Bulldozed

Posted by Blair - 2009/07/22 15:08

The old golf course is private property and the City of Surrey demanded the long grass be removed because it is a high fire hazard in the summer. The private owner chose the method and not with any consultation or warning to the Strata Corporation. To the Strata's knowledge there is no re-development application in front of the City of Surrey.

=====